OBJECT: REACH and SVHC

Dear Sirs,

despite the continuous updating and improvements to the lists of substances of the REACH directives, GMG qualifies itself, according to the REACH rules as a manufacturer, producer of articles, whereas for article can be intended, according to the same rule, any product, component or semi-worked product.

Therefore we inform you as follows:

1. Items supplied by GMG are neither accredited to the REACH dispositions as they are nor can be qualified as "items which release substances intentionally;
2. GMG can not be qualified as a manufacturer/importer according to the REACH rules and therefore is not requested to register or pre-register the substances that are used during the production process.
3. GMG undertakes all the necessary activities in order to continuously conform to the disposition applied into the REACH rules.

GMG declares besides:

what in the items to you supplied, substances you classify as SVHC (substances of very high concern) and included in the "candidate list" are not present; the list is continuously updated on site of ECHA whose link is "http://echa.europa.eu/chem_data/authorisation_process/candidate_list_table_en.asp", over the admitted limit of concentration of 0,1% in weight.
